- On May 3, Thompson Zimmerman of the Majors Braves hit a three run blast to leftfield against the Diamondbacks.
- On May 9, in the bottom of the seventh inning against the Majors Mariners, Stevie Hernandez hit a two-out walk-off home run over the Blue Monster of the AAA field to help the Cardinals win their first playoff game 5-4 in extra innings. It was Stevie's ninth home run of the season and first walk-off home run.
- On May 9, Wilder Sinclair of the Coach Pitch Marlins launched a towering fly ball over the centerfield monster and on to the AA field. This is his third smashing home run of the season.
- On May 9, Casey Clayman of the Coach Pitch Marlins smashed a high drive over the left centerfield fence landing in the 4-pack batting cages. The bomb was Casey's first home run of the season.
- On May 10, Myles Carter of the Coach Pitch Yankees delivered an unforgettable performance at the plate, launching two towering home runs that left fans and fielders alike in awe. His first blast came in the first inning – a no-doubt shot that cleared the left-field wall with ease going halfway into the batting cages. But Carter was not finished. In the second inning, he struck again, turning on the baseball and sending it deep into the sky, well beyond the centerfield fence. Each swing showcased Carter's raw power and perfect timing, reminding everyone in the Coach Pitch Division why he's a force to be reckoned with.
- On May 10, Orion Sieme of the Coach Pitch Orioles hit two Home Runs in a game against the Cardinals.
- On May 10, Wilder Sinclair hit his fourth home run of the season during a game against the Diamondbacks. In the second inning Wilder first hit what looked to be fair a home run, but was declared a foul ball. Determined, Wilder then stepped up and hit a beautiful home run over the centerfield fence.
- On May 10, Paxton Faaborg of the Coach Pitch Yankees launched a drive to deep left center for his first home run of the season.
- On May 10, Michael Nero of the Coach Pitch Dodgers hit a high fly ball deep over the right center fence!
- On May 10, Nash Avery of the Tee Ball Pirates stepped up to the tee eager to hit as always. He took a monster swing and hit a screaming line drive to deep center just enough to clear the fence for a homerun. The ball went no higher than 6 feet in the air as it flew over the fence in a matter of seconds.
- On May 10, Rhys Rutherford of the Tee Ball Orioles hit a long fly ball that soared over the fence, landing about 15 feet over the fence inside the other baseball field. This was his 2nd home run of the season and definitely his longest.
- On May 12, Hudson Turner of the Majors Orioles hit an absolute moonshot home run to centerfield.

- On May 12, Grayson Pezeshkan of the Majors Diamondbacks hit a playoff 3-run home run on the Majors field, fly ball to right center field.
- On May 17, Elliott Braddock of the Coach Pitch Yankees stood at home plate and swung for the fences, he hit the ball as hard as he could, eyes wide, unsure whether the ball would clear the fence. Then it happened the ball went over the left field fence. The crowd erupted. His teammates jumped up from the dugout, fists in the air. A slow smile spread across his face as he began his trot around the bases, a mixture of disbelief and joy in every step. By the time he rounded third, the adrenaline was pumping full tilt. Cheers rained down as he touched home plate, greeted by a swarm of teammates who'd been waiting for this moment the entire season. He finally hit his first Home Run!
- On May 17, Coach Pitch Yankees' Myles Carter's three-home run performance was a breathtaking display of power and precision. Each swing seemed to echo with purpose, as he launched three towering shots that not only illuminated the scoreboard but also ignited the crowd's fervor. His first homer was a majestic drive that soared deep into the overcast sky, setting the tone early. The second was a laser-like line drive that cleared the centerfield fence, showcasing his power. The third was a commanding blast that capped off his remarkable feat, solidifying his place in the Coach Pitch SOLL history. This trifecta of home runs underscored his exceptional talent and left an indelible mark on the game as well as the entire league.
- On May 17, Coach Pitch Cardinal Prescott Sullivan, on his last trip to the plate for the game, hit one over the scoreboard in left center for his 2nd Home Run of the season.
- On May 17, Coach Pitch Marlin Wilder Sinclair hit two home runs in the same game. Wilder had two incredible swings, including a beautiful center field Home Run in the first inning and a bullet of a home run to right field in the third inning.
- On May 19, Minors Phillie Chase Miller hit his first career Home Run and the first Home Run in the Minors this season. Down 2-0 in the second innings, Chase Miller obliterated a ball to deep left-center field, clearing the Casa Vega sign on the Minors field by a good 20 feet. The Home Run proved to be the difference in the game as the Phillies won their playoff game 8-7.
- On May 19, Stevie Hernandez hit a lead-off Home Run against the Majors Braves in the Majors playoffs. It was Stevie's league-leading 10th Home Run of the season.
